DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

Canadian Journal of Development Studies/ Revue canadienne d'études du développement

Included in the Thomson Reuters Social Science Citation Index®

Editors: John Harriss (Editor), Simon Fraser University,

Nasser Ary Tanimoune (Francophone Editor), University of Ottawa,
Paul Bowles, University of Northern British Columbia, Arjan de Haan,
International Development Research Centre (IDRC), Ottawa, Denise Piché,
Université Laval, Prachi Srivastava (Review Editor), University of Ottawa

Volume 33, 2012, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0225-5189, Online ISSN: 2158-9100

The Canadian Journal of Development Studies provides an interdisciplinary, bilingual forum for critical research and reflection upon development theory and the complex problems of development policy and practice. CJDS publishes peer-reviewed articles and review essays, and the Journal aims to keep readers informed with commentaries, practical notes and reviews of recently published books on development. The CJDS is international in its outlook and encourages contributions from scholars and practitioners across the world, while, as a Canadian journal, having a particular concern for Canada's role in international development policy making and practice.

CJDS is a bi-lingual journal publishing in English and French.

Conflict, Security & Development

Editor: Dylan Hendrickson, King's College London, UK

Volume 12, 2012, 5 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1467-8802, Online ISSN: 1478-1174

Conflict, Security and Development provides an analytical and empirically informed treatment of the linkages between issues of security and development in contemporary international relations. It places emphasis on the need to examine issues of security and development in their mutual interaction rather than as separate areas of academic enquiry and policy-making.

Entrepreneurship & Regional Development: An International Journal

Included in the Thomson Reuters Social Science Citation Index®

Editor: Alistair R. Anderson, Robert Gordon University, UK

Volume 24, 2012, 10 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0898-5626, Online ISSN: 1464-5114

Entrepreneurship and Regional Development is unique in that it addresses the central factors in economic development – entrepreneurial vitality and innovation – as local and regional phenomena. It provides a multi-disciplinary forum for researchers and practitioners in the field of entrepreneurship and small firm development and for those studying and developing the local and regional context in which entrepreneurs emerge, innovate and establish the new economic activities which drive economic growth and create new economic wealth and employment. The Journal focuses on the diverse and complex characteristics of local and regional economies which lead to entrepreneurial vitality and endow the large and small firms within them with international competitiveness.

Forum for Development Studies

Editors: Axel Borchgrevink and Knut Nustad, both at Norsk Utenrikspolitisk Institutt (NUPI), Norway

Volume 39, 2012, 3 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0803-9410, Online ISSN: 1891-1765

Forum for Development Studies aims to be a platform for development research broadly defined – including the social sciences, economics, history and law. All articles are peer-reviewed. In order to maintain the Journal as a meeting place for different disciplines, we encourage authors to communicate across disciplinary boundaries. Contributions that limit the use of exclusive terminology and frame the questions explored in ways that are accessible to the whole range of the Journal's readership will be given priority.

Gender & Development

An Oxfam Journal

Editor: Caroline Sweetman, Oxfam, GB

Assistant Editor: Liz Cooke, Oxfam, GB

Volume 18, 2012, 3 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1355-2074, Online ISSN: 1364-9221

ONLINE ACCESS INCLUDED WITH ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS

Each issue of Gender & Development focuses on a topic of key interest to all involved in promoting gender equality through development. An up-to-the minute overview of the topic is followed by a range of articles from researchers, policy makers, and practitioners. Insights from development initiatives across the world are shared and analysed, and lessons identified. Innovative theoretical concepts are explored by key academic writers, and the uses of these concepts for policy and practice are explored. Each issue includes an up-to-date resources section, listing publications, electronic resources, and organisations.

Journal of Development Effectiveness

Included in the Thomson Reuters Social Science Citation Index®

Managing Editor: Howard White, Executive Director of 3ie

Volume 3, 2012, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1943-9342, Online ISSN: 1943-9407

Journal of Development Effectiveness aims to support evidence-based policy making to enhance development effectiveness. It will do this by publishing high quality papers reporting evidence of the impact of projects, programs and policies in developing countries. Review papers covering a number of studies are particularly encouraged. The Journal does not subscribe to any one approach to impact evaluation, but requires that the techniques employed be rigorously applied, with a preference for studies which have been well contextualized with an appropriate use of mixed methods. The Journal will also publish papers of a more conceptual nature related to impact evaluation, as well as papers covering practical aspects of conducting impact studies. Journal of Development Effectiveness has an explicit policy of 'learning from our mistakes', discouraging publication bias in favour of positive results – papers reporting interventions with no, or a negative, impact are welcome. A listing of new impact studies will be included in each issue.

Journal of Human Development and Capabilities

Listed in the Thomson Reuters Social Sciences Citation Index®

Co-Editors: Francisco Rodríguez, Human Development Report Office, USA, Sakiko Fukuda-Parr, Graduate Program in International Affairs, USA and Siddiq Osmani, School of Economics, University of Ulster, UK

Volume 13, 2012, 4 issues per year

Print ISSN: 1945-2829, Online ISSN: 1945-2837

Journal of Human Development and Capabilities: A Multi-Disciplinary Journal for People-Centered Development is a peer reviewed journal launched in January 2000 to provide new perspectives on challenges of human development, capability expansion, and poverty eradication, human well being, markets, growth, social justice and human rights. The Editors recognize that development is more than about economic growth. It is also about improving the well being of people, and expanding the choices and opportunities they have. Development policies cut across economic, social and political issues.

The Journal of Development Studies

Listed in the Thomson Reuters Social Sciences Citation Index®

Editors: Oliver Morrissey, School of Economics, University of Nottingham, UK, Richard Palmer-Jones, School of Development Studies, University of East Anglia, UK, Ken Shadlen, London School of Economics, UK and Howard White, International Initiative for Impact Evaluation (3ie)

Volume 48, 2012, 12 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0022-0388, Online ISSN: 1743-9140

The Journal of Development Studies was the first and is one of the best known international journals in the area of development studies. Since its foundation in 1964, it has published many seminal articles on development and opened up many new areas of debate. We invite articles from across academic disciplines, but priority is given to papers which are:

- interdisciplinary
- provide critical tests, based on empirical work, of alternative theories, perspectives or schools of thought
- relevant to important issues in development economics, politics and policy.

The Journal of Peasant Studies

Listed in the Thomson Reuters Social Sciences Citation Index®

Editor: Saturnino ('Jun') Borrás Jr, International Institute of Social Studies (ISS), Netherlands

Volume 39, 2012, 5 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0306-6150, Online ISSN: 1743-9361

The Journal of Peasant Studies is one of the leading Journals in the field of rural development. It was founded on the initiative of Terence J. Byres and its first editors were Byres, Charles Curwen and Teodor Shanin. It provokes and promotes critical thinking about social structures, institutions, actors and processes of change in and in relation to the rural world. It encourages inquiry into how agrarian power relations between classes and other social groups are created, understood, contested and transformed. The Journal pays special attention to questions of 'agency' of marginalized groups in agrarian societies, particularly their autonomy and capacity to interpret – and change – their conditions.

Third World Quarterly

Listed in the Thomson Reuters Social Sciences Citation Index®

Editor: Shahid Qadir, Royal Holloway, University of London, UK

Volume 33, 2012, 10 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0143-6597, Online ISSN: 1360-2241

Third World Quarterly (TWQ) is the leading Journal of scholarship and policy in the field of international studies. For three decades it has set the agenda on development discourses of the global debate. As the most influential academic journal covering the emerging worlds, TWQ is at the forefront of analysis and commentary on fundamental issues of global concern. TWQ examines all the issues that affect the many Third Worlds and is not averse to publishing provocative and exploratory articles, especially if they have the merit of opening up emerging areas of research that have not been given sufficient attention.

Population Studies

A Journal of Demography

Included in the Thomson Reuters Social Sciences Citation Index®

Managing Editor: John Simons, London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, UK

Volume 66, 2012, 3 issues per year

Print ISSN: 0032-4728, Online ISSN: 1477-4747

For over half a century, Population Studies has reported significant advances in methods of demographic analysis, conceptual and mathematical theories of demographic dynamics and behaviour, and the use of these theories and methods to extend scientific knowledge and to inform policy and practice.

The Journal's coverage of this field is comprehensive: applications in developed and developing countries; historical and contemporary studies; quantitative and qualitative studies; analytical essays and reviews. The subjects of papers range from classical concerns, such as the determinants and consequences of population change, to such topics as family demography and evolutionary and genetic influences on demographic behaviour. Often the Journal's papers have had the effect of extending the boundaries of its field.

African Security

Editor: James J. Hentz, Virginia Military Institute, USA

Co-Editor: Ian Taylor, University of St. Andrews, UK

Volume 5, 2012, 4 Issues per year

ISSN Print 1939-2206, ISSN Online 1939-2214

African Security is a new Journal dedicated to the exploration of fresh approaches to understanding Africa's conflicts and security concerns. This Journal investigates competing analytical approaches to understanding security while engaging in discussions of real world security issues in Africa. In particular, the Journal seeks to investigate the myriad issues relating to conflict and security within and between African nations, not only from the more traditional approaches to security studies but also from more novel and innovative perspectives. While the Journal is based in the disciplines of political science, international relations, and international security, it welcomes theoretical challenges to how we understand conflict and security drawn from the perspectives of other disciplines, such as anthropology, development studies, environmental studies, and economics.

Democratization

Listed in the Thomson Reuters Social Sciences Citation Index®

Editors: Jeffrey Haynes, London Metropolitan University, UK and Gordon Crawford, University of Leeds, UK

Volume 19, 2012, 6 issues per year
Print ISSN: 1351-0347, Online ISSN: 1743-890X

Democratization aims to promote a better understanding of democratization – defined as the way democratic norms, institutions and practices evolve and are disseminated both within and across national and cultural boundaries. While the focus is on democratization viewed as a process, the Journal also builds on the enduring interest in democracy itself and its analysis. The emphasis is contemporary and the approach comparative, with the publication of scholarly contributions about those areas where democratization is currently attracting considerable attention world-wide.

Food and Foodways

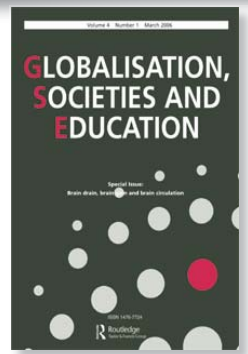

Explorations in the History and Culture of Human Nourishment

Editor-in-Chief: Carole Counihan, Millersville University, USA

Volume 20, 2012, 4 issues per year
Print ISSN: 0740-9710, Online ISSN: 1542-3484

Food and Foodways is a refereed, interdisciplinary, and international journal devoted to publishing original scholarly articles on the history and culture of human nourishment. By reflecting on the role food plays in human relations, this unique Journal explores the powerful but often subtle ways in which food has shaped, and shapes, our lives socially, economically, politically, mentally, nutritionally, and morally. Because food is a pervasive social phenomenon, it cannot be approached by any one discipline. We encourage articles that engage dialogue, debate, and exchange across disciplines. Food and Foodways publishes work by anthropologists, biologists, economists, ethnobotanists, historians, literary critics, nutritionists, psychologists, sociologists, and others who use food as a lens of analysis. We also seek review essays or short topical pieces that are provocative and problematic in nature.

Globalizations

Listed in the Thomson Reuters Social Sciences Citation Index®

Editor: Barry Gills, Newcastle University, UK

Volume 9, 2012, 5 issues per year
Print ISSN: 1474-7731, Online ISSN: 1474-774X

Globalizations publishes work which explores new meanings of globalization, brings fresh ideas to the concept, broadens its scope and contributes to shaping debates of the future.

Globalizations is dedicated to opening the widest possible space for discussion of alternatives to a narrow economic understanding of globalization. The move from the singular to the plural is deliberate and implies scepticism of the idea that there can ever be a single theory or interpretation of the term. Rather, the Journal encourages the exploration and discussion of multiple interpretations and multiple processes that may constitute many possible globalizations, many possible alternatives.
